

Four Faces of Omarska

Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia

Former Yugoslavia

- Founded on the symbolic weight of the very active antifascist and communist struggle/resistance during WWII
- Not just antifascist struggle but also a People's Revolution (abolition of monarchy, redistribution of wealth, promotion of gender equality, etc.)
- Supraethnic socialist state (secular, modernist, welfare state – free housing, healthcare, education)
- Ethnic relations were delicately balanced through federal institutions along with the creation of a non-ethnic category – Yugoslavs.
- Principles of non-alignment, anticolonialism and anti imperialism.

Enter Wars of Nationalism (1990s)

Many different reasons were given for the breakup of Yugoslavia and consequent wars (e.g., nationalist victimisation connected with WWII atrocities was a strong mobilizing factor for Serbs).

Counterrevolution (transitional ideology founded on anticommunism and nationalism – wars for ethnically clean territories)

Five wars (of aggression/civil): Slovenia, Croatia, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Kosovo and Macedonia.

Consequences: 140,000 dead, 4 million displaced, tens of thousands missing.

New states rest on neoliberal economic policies (massive privatization), nationalism, clerical intervention into state and public affairs, weak sovereignty, poverty, increasing class divisions.

Differences between multiethnic and monoethnic states.

Mnemonic National (Ethnic) Projects

Continuity with the pre-socialist period is actively pursued (“golden age”).

Socialist era is excluded and repressed.

Historical revisionism of WWII, People’s Revolution and nationalist collaboration with the occupying forces.

Atrocities and war crimes of the 90s are not addressed since they comprise the symbolic foundation of new ethnicized states.

Victimization is the hegemonic discourse.

Mainstream cultural production perpetuates politics of nationalism and exclusion of “Other” (as to the nationalist and patriarchal model).

However, the hegemony is contested by different actors.

Prijedor, Bosnia and Herzegovina

- Largest number of killed and missing.
- More than 31,000 Bosniaks and Croats were imprisoned in Serb-run concentration camps in the Prijedor region.
- 3,173 were killed (102 children, 256 women).
- 15-20% of the pre-war Bosniak and Croat population of Prijedor lives there now.

Postwar Context

Ethnicization of public space (monuments, flags, street names), exclusion of others, discrimination of returnees (employment practices, denial of the right to public gathering) negation and relativisation of wartime atrocities.

Memorialization of Omarska

- Arcelor Mittal is, along with local authorities, refusing to construct a memorial center to acknowledge the victims of the camp.
- Visitations for commemorative purposes are restricted and have to be announced and permitted.

Working Group Four Faces of Omarska

Four Faces of Omarska is an ongoing art project questioning the strategies of production of the memorial from the position of those whose experience and knowledge has been subjugated, excluded and disqualified and which is not part of public remembrance and public history. It is constituted of networks of human relations, experiences, their opinions and discussions on the three eras and four faces of the Omarska mine: 1) The Omarska mining complex, surface mining site and the deposits of metal in Bosnia during socialism; 2) The Omarska camp, a place of mass killings and torture in the 1990s wars on the territory of the former Yugoslavia; 3) The Omarska mining complex, owned by the multinational company Arcelor Mittal; 4) Omarska as the filming location for the historical ethno-blockbuster St. George Slays the Dragon (Sveti Georgije ubiva aždahu), a recent Serbian film production. The three eras and the four faces of Omarska are elaborately linked by mutual discontinuities and continuities. They speak of the disintegration of Yugoslavia and the destiny of its citizens, or rather of the disintegration of the Yugoslav community.

First face of Omarska

Second face of Omarska

The Omarska camp, a place of mass killings and torture in the 1990s wars. Most brutal camp during the war in B&H. Between 5 and 7 thousand were imprisoned in Omarska, undergoing torture, rape, beatings, interrogations and murder (more than a few hundred bodies were never found).

Third face of Omarska

The Omarska mining complex, owned by the multinational company Arcelor Mittal.

Fourth face of Omarska

Omarska as the filming location for the historical ethno-blockbuster Sveti Georgije ubiva aždahu [St. George Shoots the Dragon], a recent Serbian film production.

Starting point and the framework of the Working group Four Faces of Omarska is the criticism of recent cultural production in Serbia. It poses the question: Which politics stand behind cultural and artistic praxis? The project Four Faces of Omarska is based on the political position of Pavle Levi's text Capo of Omarska that raised the question of the ethics of the visual and of the role of the cultural production which participates in the revision of the socialist past and in negation of recent history and war crimes. It is a deconstruction of the cultural and artistic participation in a construction of the Serbian national identity and Serbian national history. What Pavle Levi states is that the decision not to watch the movie St. George Slays the Dragon would be the political act by means of which would be able to see what is behind the image of the movie that is in function of negation of the recent history of Omarska. Or better say it is involved in creating the new narrative about Serbian national history without any references to the recent violent events that took place at that site.

- Network of relationships with the people whose lives have been affected by all three epochs of the Omarska location – production of knowledge which doesn't discard either the past nor the present.
- Archive (documents, audio and video materials, library with relevant literature).
 - Fieldwork in Prijedor, Omarska, Kozarac, Banja Luka, Sarajevo, Belgrade.
 - Various formats of group work: public working meetings, reading groups, workshops, public readings, declarations, analog and digital archives

Interventions into hegemonic collective memory

Omarska Commemoration

The only moment when victims and their families are allowed to access to the site of their suffering is two hours at 6th August every year. Visitations for commemorative purposes are restricted and have to be announced and permitted by Arcelor Mittal company.

Omarska Commemoration

Since there is no memorial or any sign that there was a concentration camp during 1992, victims and their families and friends are bringing their own banners which serve as a temporary memorial during the commemoration day 6th August every year in Omarska.

Omarska Commemoration

There are also other forms of temporal memorial such as the action with the white balloons with the names of people who were killed in Omarska concentration camp at 1992.

White Armband Day

“On 31 May 1992, the Bosnian Serb authorities in Prijedor, a town in north western Bosnia and Herzegovina, issued a decree for all non-Serbs to mark their houses with white flags or sheets and to wear a white armband if they were to leave their houses. This was the first day of a campaign of extermination that resulted in executions, concentration camps, mass rapes and the ultimate removal of more than 94% of Bosnian Muslims and Bosnian Croats from the territory of the Prijedor municipality.

Victims of the genocidal campaign carried out in Prijedor have not received any acknowledgement of their suffering from the municipal authorities to this day. The mayor Marko Pavic and the local government refuse to publicly acknowledge any of the crimes committed in Prijedor, despite numerous judgments of international and local courts. Memorials honoring victims of this campaign have been forbidden and access to sites of their suffering denied by the likes of ArcelorMittal, a company that now owns the site of the former concentration camp in Omarska.

This action is intended to raise awareness of the struggle for acknowledgement of millions who suffered injustice and harm. From Prijedor to Johannesburg, from Jakarta to Lima, let's make this a day to raise our voices against the denial of truth about past atrocities. On 31 May, let's be the voices of countless victims who were targeted for their race, ethnicity or political beliefs.”

Memorial in Exile

On July 2, 2012, London's Olympic tower — the ArcelorMittal Orbit — was reclaimed as a 'Memorial in Exile' by survivors of the Bosnian concentration camp at Omarska, now a fully-functional mine operated by ArcelorMittal. Iron ore and profits extracted from Omarska have been used to manufacture London's newest landmark. <http://www.forensic-architecture.org/explorations/a-memorial-in-exile/>

Memorial in Exile

Since the public sphere in former Yugoslavia, is created by the factors such as the ideological state apparatus, dominant cultural policy and content of commercial nature, it is necessary to make a significant effort in creating a counter-public and open the space for public discussion. It mostly means resistance to the dominant narratives of newly forged state-nations, traditional comprehension of the role of art and culture in building national identities, politics of transition and privatization, old and new forms of discrimination and segregation etc. The goal is to create collectivism of public with the aim of producing counter-public based on the ideas of solidarity and equality. Alexander Kluge * defined the public as the 'factory of politics', where the public sphere represents the space in which political and social change occurs, but only under the precondition of creating the counter-public with the potential to change and expand the possibility of public articulation of experience.

*Alexander Kluge, On Film and the Public Sphere, in New German Critique, No. 24/25, Autumn 1981-Winter 1982

Vladimir Miladinović

Vladimir Miladinović (b. 1981) graduated from the faculty of Applied Arts in Belgrade and is currently a PhD candidate at the University of Arts in Belgrade at the Center for Interdisciplinary Studies.

He is a member of working group 'Four Faces of Omarska', an art/theory group that questions memorial production strategies.

Within his artistic work Miladinović's main interests lie with the politics of remembering, media manipulation and creation and reinterpretation of the historical narratives.

He has had several solo exhibitions in Serbia and Croatia and his work has been exhibited in numerous group shows in Slovakia, Czech Republic, Greece, Austria, Germany, Holland etc. In 2012 he won the 53rd October Salon award. In 2014/15 he was artist in residence at KulturKontakt Austria in Vienna. Miladonović lives and works in Belgrade.

“Vladimir Miladinović is an artist working with war and post-war trauma of the formerly Yugoslav societies; his practice is rooted in public, forensic, political and moral determinations and representations of war crimes, or rather, in the analysis of the denial and erasure of war crimes within the current transition ideologies. Miladinović probes the ways in which media and institutions in post-Yugoslav societies create public space and shape collective memory; he opens the questions of war propaganda, manipulation, historical responsibility and intellectual engagement.”

Nikola Dedić, “The Artist as a Critical Intellectual”

Rendered History

Framework of the project Rendered History is the work with war and post-war trauma of former Yugoslav societies. The project is an example of the art that deals with the media, forensic, political and moral identification and presentation of war crimes and the current transitional ideologies of their denial and erasure. The author wish to question how the media and institutions in the post-Yugoslav societies create public space, and thus shape the collective memory. The goal is to work with art as a form of counter public sphere that raises questions of war media propaganda, manipulation, historical responsibility and intellectual engagement.

СИМБИЛИ КОЈИ СУ УЗБУДИЛИ СВЕТ: Сидна из емисије у „Српском логору“ коју је пре две ноћи приносили репортажу једне британске ТВ емисије из Босне, пријавила Аустријска телевизија

АУСТРИЈСКА проповедница толико сазнајуће Србе да их види искључиво као мученике. Притом употребљава и очигледно лаж: приносили репортажу једне британске ТВ емисије аустријска телевизија је пријавила да је упросто измислила своју државу Муслимине. Лаж је могла да достане само некоемко трепљача. Сестра двојице Срба који су приказани као Муслимани је одмах позвала постојећу српску телевизију у Беч и rekla да је упросто измислила своју државу Србе.

Како је било Мирослави Привистачеви најбоље повори познато да је видео своју браћу изгубила својим срцима се врати ТВ апарата. Бест о томе дошата само од најбољег дошата из Беча.

— То је била телевизијска емисија о томе где су у овом тренутку затворени људи. Јављено је да постоје логори, да живе у нивоу меча и да сам чула да радити да су (Американци?) дошли до тих логора. Стварно сам окренула Први програм и увидела свога брата Зорана Коњевића! Стваран сам у снимку из другог погорта изгубила и мог другог брата Слободана Коњевића. Изгубила сам је стварно — мост и кожа. Подобио се урнеба, стоји и јављено је да је везан живом од два метра. Држао сам га видео, прибибликујем сам се телевизијери и није било дивље да је то си. Мама и сестра, које живе у Бечу, потврдиле су да су и оне виделе најбољег брата (Слободана).

— Ја сам назвала Аустријску телевизију — најбоље прину Мирослава — и замолила да потврдим тражи од сиња у 12 часа, да ми кажу — где је логор, Речено ми је да се налази на Црној Потоци, а други у окolini Црбор, По-Аустријанцима, радити се о логору где су смртно Муслимани и Хрвати, о стражарима у логору и око њега није ништа обавестили.

● Пасуљ и хлеб

— Дина сам ступила васти у 12 часова и јавно се аустријски репортер, не знам одакле, али јавно се ширити у Аустрији и рекао да знаде ментрестрју у логору да су им дали пасуљ и комад хлеба и рекли — жеврите, А они су јавни, јети, само што нису танјир појели. Аустријски репортер је рекао да је нормално, што које халапљивојеву, јер питају Бога куда ће доћи ствари поцију хране и да ти ће је уопште бити...

— Где танко живе вади брата, питамо.
— Зоран Коњевић, је живео у добури. Амаа Бошњацима 40, а други брат Слободан Коњевић, такође у Добру, Добру др. 10.

— Да ти имамо налог у Београду, и како би могли да дођемо до фотографија Боше брата.

— Немам ниог у Београду, једино да лично дођем и донесем фотографије.

● Искључена забуда

— Ви сте и данас гледали телевизијски програм и што сте видели?

— Видела сам један ужас, бити су плави, млади, просто нисам знала да гледам. У логору је и један српски лекар, позвао га је аустријски репортер питао како је са трајер, он је одговорио: Не питајте ме, видите, Сидна је све рекао.

— Ништа не знам ни о субјетним талима сестра, јавила се жена Нана Кољевић (бине кула), друкта Бери Кољевић, а трља Невења Башић, Нана није се знае Тамио Јовић и све живи у Сарајеву. Ништа не знам ни о коме Мој трети брат Ђево Коњевић живи у Сарајеву, Маршало Тита 58, и о неким субјетним талима ништа не знам — заједнички Мирослава Привистачеви.

— Да ти постоји могућност да сте се забавили и да вам се се — чинишћу?

— Ништо, алим своју гледила само нису они.

Dramático relato del primer periodista que ha entrado en un campo de concentración en Bosnia, donde militares serbios torturan y masacran a sus rehenes

ED VULLIAMY

THE GUARDIAN/EL MUNDO

No quiero mentir, pero no puedo decir la verdad», afirmó el joven, demacrado, curioso y atascando su acunoso plato de judías como un perro famélico, mientras le temblaban las manos, largas y delgadas.

Es la hora de comer en el campo o vicentino de investigación de Omarska, que alberga a prisioneros musulmanes y se encuentra, gestionado por la policía serbia de Bosnia, en las inmediaciones de Prijedor, en la parte nororiental de Bosnia.

Los internos están terriblemente flacos, con las facciones enjutas, y se les notan todos los huesos. Algunos hasta tienen aspecto cadavérico, con la piel apesgamada plegándoseles sobre los huesudos brazos. Tienen la cara chupada y la mirada agobiada, con la típica expresión del preso que no sabe qué va a ocurrirle después.

Los presos, o internos, salen de un enorme cobertizo de color herrumbroso, treinta a la vez, quedando expuestos al impenetrable calor del sol. Son puestos en fila por un vigilante de la prisión, un policía civil, y luego, en un patético ejercicio del campo, se les hace correr —o caminar apesada— en fila india por un patio hasta llegar a la cantina, bajo la atenta custodia de un obeso policía que los vigila con una ametralladora desde un puesto de observación de cristal.

No se les gritan las órdenes se saben ya perfectamente el ejercicio. En la cocina, bien ordenada, vuelven a ponerse en fila esperando recibir su ración: un tazón de judías revueltas con migas de pan y un panecillo. Lo devoran en medio de un silencio horrible sobre las mesas metálicas y después forman otras filas junto a la puerta y cruzan de nuevo el patio a buen paso hasta entrar de nuevo por la puerta oscura del enorme cobertizo de aluminio.

Al parecer, es la única comida que se les da al día. Si comen al menos dos veces esa cantidad, están menos demacrados y apesados. Algunos se ven llevar el pan para comérselo después, agarrándolo

EE UU, Canada y Mexico crean una zona de libre comercio

El mercado común norteamericano consolida una economía de bloques

La firma del Tratado de Libre Comercio (TLC) entre Estados Unidos, México y Canadá consolida la división mundial en bloques económicos. Ante el caos todopoderoso Japón — con su área de influencia — y la emergente Comunidad Europea, Estados Unidos ha reaccionado creando un mercado de más de 20 millones de kilómetros cuadrados y 360 millones de consumidores.

El Tratado de Libre Comercio permitirá al nuevo bloque competir más efectivamente con otros mercados globales y obtener los beneficios de una liberalización comercial que amplía su acceso a millones de consumidores.

El histórico acuerdo suscrito ayer en Washington supone, entre otras cosas, el minar las barreras comerciales en el plazo de 15 años entre los firmantes, abrir sus mercados financieros antes del año 2000 y liberalizar el sector automovilístico estadounidense. La única limitación será el mantenimiento de la soberanía de definitivamente por el Congreso de EE UU antes de 1993. Casi simultáneamente al anuncio de Bush, el presidente de México, Carlos Salinas de Gortari, pronunció un mensaje televisado a sorpresa en el que aliviaba que las negociaciones — 200 encuentros bilaterales y 7 reuniones ministeriales en 11 meses — se habían llevado de forma cuidadosa y respetando la Constitución mexicana. Esabe violó el precinto judicial de la saca con los 22 millones de Ollero Empleados de la empresa de seguridad Esabe mezclaron con otros los 2.200 billetes nuevos de 10.000 pesetas (32 millones de pesetas) vendidos por la policía el 15 de julio a Jorge Ollero, a pesar de que el dinero se encontraba en una saca precintada en la que se había puesto una cartolina con la advertencia: "Esta bolsa no debe ser utilizada. Su contenido es depósito de la Policía Judicial". La policía entregó la saca con el dinero en la oficina del BRU ubicada en los juzgados de Sevilla el mismo 15 de julio. A las dos de la tarde de ese día, empleados de Esabe la recogieron para trasladarla a la sede central del banco en Sevilla, ya que en los juzgados no había cámara instalada. Al día siguiente, Esabe llevó allí la saca, pero ésta ya había sido abierta rompiendo el precinto, y los billetes originales sustituidos por otros de idéntico valor. Página 15

Los campos de la muerte serbios se abren a la Cruz Roja

Un preso da de beber a varios compañeros en el campo de Banya Luka, controlado por los serbios, en el norte de Bosnia. La Cruz Roja anunció el martes por la tarde la inspección de los campos en los que, según numerosos testimonios, se han perpetrado atrocidades como la práctica de ejecuciones masivas. Entretanto, en el Consejo de Seguridad de las Naciones Unidas se daban los últimos retoques a las resoluciones que darán vía libre a una intervención militar occidental que garantice la llegada de la ayuda humanitaria y contribuya a poner fin a la matanza. En relación a la efectividad de que España se quiere al despliegue militar, fuentes del Ministerio de Defensa apuntaron ayer que, en esos casos, tan solo participan en el mismo militares profesionales. Páginas 3 y 12

Un empresario griego compra la mayoría del diario 'Pravda'

El diario Pravda, órgano oficial del Partido Comunista de la desparecida Unión Soviética (PCUS) fundado por Lenin en 1912, pertenece desde hace unos días a una sociedad anónima fundada por un editor griego, Janis Jamnikos. Los responsables de Pravda afirman que el empresario griego Jamnikos es un conocido licitador anticomunista y que la línea política del diario no sufrirá alteración alguna.

La noticia ha sido confirmada oficialmente por Alexandros Iliu, director en funciones del rotativo moscovita. La nueva sociedad anónima — Právda International — ya está legalizada y registrada ante los organismos independientes rusos. La nueva sociedad es una alianza entre el diario y la firma griega Steel Light, que pertenece a Janis Jamnikos, y según ha trascendido, está lista en su poder el 55% de las acciones, mientras que Pravda se ha quedado solo con el 45%. Las 20 pinturas rupestres de Alava son una falsificación

Era el descubrimiento del siglo en la localidad alavesa de Zigorbe, y ya habían empezado a aflorar milongos turísticos en la zona. Las pinturas rupestres de las cuevas de Zubalde (20 figuras de animales, entre ellos un espectacular mamontón) van a acabar en los tribunales. Los 13.000 años de antigüedad se han venido abajo por un dibujo. El autor raspa al parecer las piedras con un esgrafiador antes de pintar. Serafin Ruiz Sola, espeleólogo y en ese momento estudiante de cuarto curso de Historia, dio con la entrada de la cueva en abril de 1990 y, tras averiguar del descubrimiento meses más tarde, se convirtió en un héroe. Especialistas de la Universidad del País Vasco dieron el visto bueno a las pinturas, aunque pedían un estudio más amplio. Ayer se presentó un informe en el que han colaborado expertos del Louvre. La conclusión es la de que las pinturas son falsas. Página 19

Roca abanderó la protesta en el Congreso

La oposición boicotea el debate presupuestario por desplantes del PSOE

La oposición en bloque se negó ayer a seguir debatiendo el proyecto de Ley de Presupuestos Generales del Estado en vista del rechazo sistemático de todas sus enmiendas y por considerar inaceptable la ausencia en las votaciones y el momento de miembros del Gobierno durante las jornadas parlamentarias.

Todos los grupos y el propio presidente del Congreso, hicieron presente la necesidad de modificar el reglamento de la Cámara, y especialmente en lo referido a la tramitación de la ley de presupuestos. Miguel Roca llegó a media tarde al momento de votación, que fue secundado inmediatamente por el portavoz del Centro Democrático y Social, José Ramón Caso. Roca protestó porque se iniciaba inmediatamente se desoyó por defenidas todas las enmiendas y se pasaba a la votación final.

El presidente del Congreso, Félix Pons, frenó el intento, pero más tarde, y tras una interrupción de 10 minutos, todos los portavoces llegaron a la conclusión de cerrar el debate y pasar a la votación.

Rodrigo Rato, del Grupo Popular, dijo que su rechazo del debate obedecía a "una cuestión política de fondo por la forma de entender la política económica" por parte del Gobierno.

La votación final de los presupuestos comenzó a las 20.30. Los diputados votaron sección por sección y el PSOE rechazó todas y cada una de las enmiendas defendidas por la oposición. En general, cada grupo respetó su propia disciplina y el resto, con la excepción del PSOE, se abstuvo.

González, requerido para informar al Parlamento sobre la cumbre

Delors y la presidencia de la CE tranquilizan a España sobre la cohesión

Los tratados que se aprobarán en la cumbre comunitaria de Maastricht en diciembre contendrán un texto aceptable para todos sobre la cohesión económica y social, acompañado de una declaración tranquilizadora para España. Tanto la presidencia de la Comunidad, representada por el ministro de Exteriores de Holanda, Hans van den Broek, como el presidente de la Comisión Europea, Jacques Delors, aprovecharon ayer su comparecencia ante el Pleno del Parlamento Europeo para garantizar a España que este "tema crucial para varios Estados y de interés fundamental para todos" no se interponga en el curso de la trascendente cumbre comunitaria. Delors afirmó: "Hemos hecho progresos, salvo en la prensa española". Delors se mostró partidario de mejorar el principio de progresividad en las contribuciones de cada país, como reclama España, aunque no dijo nada de garantías sobre los futuros fondos. El Parlamento Europeo tiene previsto votar hoy una resolución amenazando con rechazar los tratados de unión política y económica monetaria si los dos no interceden y otorgan garantías a los actuales beneficiarios.

La cumbre de Maastricht es considerada, de tal trascendencia que todos los partidos de la oposición se hicieron ayer la comparecencia en el Congreso del presidente del Gobierno español. Página 3 y 17

La barbarie de Vukovar

La imagen de esta familia seña, supuestamente asesinada por fuerzas macedias en el jardín de su vivienda en Vukovar, forma parte de los macabros hallazgos denunciados por el Ejército yugoslavo tras su ocupación de la asediada ciudad croata. Después de tres meses de combates, los dos enfrentamientos se acaban mutuamente de actos de barbarie contra la población civil. El Gobierno de Zagreb ha acusado al Ejército de haber dejado a unos 400 heridos en el hospital de Vukovar y de la matanza de 80 guardias croatas. Página 2

El PP anima a no devolver créditos a tres cajas acusadas de condonar deudas socialistas

El presidente del Partido Popular de Andalucía, Gabino Puche, animó ayer a los ciudadanos a que se nieguen a devolver los créditos que tengan contratados con las tres cajas que han sido acusadas de condonar préstamos al PSOE. Las cajas a las que se refirió son las de Ronda, Almería y Cádiz, actualmente fusionadas junto a otras dos en Unicaja, entidad presidida por Braulio Medel. Según algunos medios, esas tres cajas condonaron al PSOE el pago de ocho créditos concedidos entre 1987 y 1990 por un importe superior a los 347 millones de pesetas.

Medel dijo ayer que la acusación es "absolutamente falsa", mientras Unicaja amenaza acciones legales contra los responsables de los "calumniosos" difundidos. Página 19

La Guardia Civil detuvo ayer a 43 inmigrantes ilegales africanos que habían desembarcado en cuatro pateras en la playa de la Cleta de Tarifa (Cádiz), en una zona militar. Una dotación de la Cruz Roja, alertada por un pescador, avisó a las 8.30 a las cuatro pateras, pero no dio aviso a las autoridades al comprobar que los inmigrantes no tenían grandes mesajes. La Guardia Civil les detuvo tras ser avisada por soldados de vigilancia en la zona.

Las fuerzas serbias mantienen intacto su cerco sobre la capital bosnia

Una bomba destroza a 15 personas en Sarajevo ante una heladería

ALFONSO ARMADA, ENVIADO ESPECIAL, Sarajevo
Nogostival, un zapato de mujer, un pañete decorado (¡gambitos bonitos) y los carnesos humanos. Era todo lo que quedaba de dos africanos que ayer poseaban ante una heladería en el mercado de Alibitino Polje, en el nuevo Sarajevo, cuando fueron alcanzados por una granada de mortero lanzada desde una posición serbia en las colinas de Nedarića.

Trece personas más murieron y otras 81 resultaron heridas en una de las mayores matanzas desde que empezó la guerra hace casi cinco meses. Seis personas fallecieron en el acto y el resto en el hospital. Las imágenes grabadas segundos después por un equipo de la televisión local mostraron al mundo todo el horror de la tragedia. El lugar quedó salpicado de grandes restos de sangre. Bolsas de la compra, carretillas, zapatos desparejados y una cartera yacían en el suelo, entre cristales. La granada cayó junto a una heladería destruyéndola por completo la tienda y todas las verduras del entorno. En un quicio milagrosamente irris-to se distingue una de las marcas de helado.

No fueron los únicos muertos ayer en Sarajevo. Tras los asesinatos alcanzados en la Conferencia de Londres, que se clausuró el jueves en la capital británica, nadie en la capital bosnia se hace ilusiones.

El cerco de la ciudad se mantiene intacto. Desde la primera línea del frente no se observa ningún retroceso en las posiciones serbias, ningún repliegue ni desmantelamiento de la artillería pesada, que sigue castigando a la ciudad de manera indiscriminada.

Neonazis alemanes intentaron quemar centros de refugiados en siete ciudades

La policía alemana busca en medios de la extrema derecha a los responsables del atentado con bomba que en la noche del sábado causó 18 heridos en plenas fiestas de Halloween. Una explosión que oca a la que en 1990 costó 13 vidas en Múnich. La violencia xenofoba catalizada por la semana caliente de Roskilde produjo incidentes en al menos otras siete ciudades alemanas, en las que aliados manifestantes intentaron asaltar centros de refugiados. El resurgimiento de los grupos nazis en Alemania, al amparo de la ola de xenofobia que ha hecho mella en algunas partes del país, ha llevado al Gobierno a crear una unidad policial para combatir a la extrema derecha. La noche del sábado al domingo en Roskilde, ya respondió a las expectativas de violencia creadas por la concentración de extremistas de uno y otro signo ideológico en la ciudad. La firmeza de la policía, que detuvo a 90 personas antes de que llegaran a la ciudad, restó fuerza a los violentos, que sólo pan arrojaron una manifestación de desagravio contra el asalto e incendio a principios de semana de un albergue de refugiados para salvar sus diferencias.

Documentos del 'caso Ollero' implican a una ex directiva del PSOE

Aida Álvarez, ex coordinadora de finanzas del PSOE y estrecha colaboradora hasta 1986 del vicepresidente general socialista, Alfonso Guerra, aparece como la presunta destinataria de una comisión de Pedro Llach, el industrial intermediario en el caso Ollero. El dato se desprende de un papel escrito por el propio Llach, intervenido por la Policía Judicial sevillana en su domicilio, y que data de "hace tres o cuatro años". El documento indica que se le debe pagar una comisión "de un 2% o un 3% a Aida Álvarez", según fuentes judiciales que han visto el escrito.

En el texto requisado "no figura el motivo por el que éste ha de entregar esa comisión, ni tampoco si se le pagó o no a entregar la misma", añaden dichas fuentes.

Tres días el partido en 1985, después de nueve años de militancia, Aida Álvarez pasó a dirigir la firma Distribuidora Express 2000, que llegó al número de la sede electoral socialista —en la calle madrileña de Gobelos— en 1987, según se descubrió al esilar el caso Ollero.

FERNANDEZ ORDÓÑEZ, ARTIFICE DE LAS GRANDES REFORMAS DE LA TRANSICIÓN, SERÁ ENTERRADO HOY

La sociedad española pierde a la figura más admirada de toda la clase política

Shevardnadze, Shultz, Genscher, Howe y De Michelis le rinden tributo en EL MUNDO

MADRID — Con un sentimiento generalizado de reconocimiento a su labor fue acogida la noticia de la muerte del ex ministro de Asuntos Exteriores, Francisco Fernández Ordóñez, ocurrida a las 10.45 de ayer.

El ex ministro falleció a consecuencia del cáncer que le había obligado a retirarse de la vida pública hace ahora apenas dos meses.

Desde la derecha hasta Henri Batasuna, hubo un unánime lamento en el mundo político por la pérdida del político que, desde las carteras de Hacienda, Justicia y Exteriores, realizó las más importantes reformas de la transición.

Según una encuesta publicada en mayo por EL MUNDO DEL PAIS VASCO, Ordóñez era el miembro del Gobierno mejor valorado, un punto por encima de Felipe González y dos de Narcís Serra.

Los políticos Shevardnadze, Shultz, Genscher, Howe y De Michelis, que fueron sus colegas en la diplomacia internacional, escriben hoy en EL MUNDO DEL PAIS VASCO en su memoria.

Los testimonios sobre campos de concentración serbios reviven los fantasmas del nazismo

• Mientras el Vaticano asegura que no interviene es aún poco lo de omisión. Belgarda dominada que se intenta justificar una escalada militar

• EL MUNDO publicará mañana el relato íntimo del único periodista occidental que logró entrar en el campo de prisioneros de Omarska

LONDRES — La difusión de las primeras imágenes sobre los campos de concentración y los informes sobre su existencia y finalidad, realizados por la FORPRONU en el mes de junio y que fueron hechos reales ayer, provocaron la indignación de la comunidad internacional que asocia esta nueva masacre con el holocausto nazi.

Ante el horror de esta guerra civil, Estados Unidos y Europa debaten las posibles opciones, incluidas las militares, para acabar con la masacre, aunque Washington anunció que no quiere involucrarse con un nuevo Vietnam. El Vaticano no ha dudado en calificar la pasividad ante el conflicto como «un pecado de omisión».

La prueba más fehaciente de las operaciones de limpieza étnica llevadas a cabo en Bosnia la ofrece el testimonio que publicará mañana EL MUNDO, del único periodista occidental que logró entrar en el campo de Omarska.

Los serbios atacan deliberadamente a las fuerzas de la ONU en Sarajevo

La artillería bombardea por tercer día consecutivo el acuartelamiento de Naciones Unidas — Al menos 6 civiles muertos y decenas de heridos por fuego de mortero en el centro de la ciudad

FERNANDO MUJICA
 ENMIENDO ESPECIAL

SARAJEVO.—La ciudad ha amanecido con el olor ácido de los incendios. El sonido del bombardeo, que no ha cesado hasta bien entrada la madrugada, se mezclaba durante la noche con los disparos de armas automáticas. El propio cuartel general de las fuerzas de la ONU fue duramente castigado por tercer día consecutivo. Los cristales de las instalaciones, donde también están ubicados equipos de televisión, saltaron por los aires.

Dos ingenieros militares británicos, parte del batallón llegado a Sarajevo para reforzar las defensas de la ONU, resultaron heridos por los proyectiles.

[Por otra parte, el presidente de la Comisión Europea, Jacques Delors, criticó ayer en París la poca contundencia con que tanto Estados Unidos como Europa habían amenazado a los serbios. Delors se mostró partidario de llevar a cabo una intervención militar cuanto antes y consideró claramente insuficientes las dos resoluciones dictadas por la ONU.]

POLEMICA ENTRE EL CONCEJAL JON GANGOTI Y EL GOBERNADOR CIVIL

Batalla campal en el centro de Bilbao

Una pelea, origen del enfrentamiento entre 500 jóvenes y la Policía

BILBAO.—Los hechos que dieron lugar en la madrugada de ayer al desdoro del «Café Boulevar» y al enfrentamiento de medio millar de jóvenes con agentes de la Policía Nacional aun permanecen sin esclarecer.

Una de las versiones aportada por el concejal de Cultura de Bilbao, Jon Gangotxi, apunta a que el detonante fue una pelea entre dos grupos de jóvenes en el local y el consiguiente intento de desalojamiento por parte de los carabineros. Miembros de las comparsas, ayudados por la Policía Municipal, consiguieron poner fin a los enfrentamientos pero, según Gangotxi, agentes antidisturbios de la Policía Nacional llegaron hacia las siete de la mañana, una hora sesenta minutos después de ser avisados y comenzaron a dispersar sin más ni más, reductándose los tres dentones».

El gobernador civil negó todas acusaciones, aduciendo que la Policía llegó al Arsenal poco después de recibir el aviso y que se vio obligada a intervenir ante la gravedad de la situación.

Ocho personas resultaron heridas durante los incidentes, entre ellas un policía.

Aizalluz asegura que la violencia en Euskadi se ha acabado «y ETA no tiene nada que hacer»

• El presidente del PNV dijo, en un acto político de su partido, que el único que ha hecho el atentado del lunes es retrasar el final

SAN SEBASTIÁN.—El presidente del PNV, Xabier Aizalluz, afirmó ayer en Zarautz que la violencia de Euskadi se ha acabado y ETA no tiene nada que hacer.

Durante un acto político de su partido, tuvo duras palabras para la organización terrorista. «El atentado del pasado lunes, lo único que ha hecho es retrasar el final. ¿Podrán matar, pero ETA ya no tiene perspectiva de futuro».

Para el líder nacionalista, el papel de ETA en la sociedad vasca está fuera de lugar. «Lo único que hace es trasladar al pueblo que debe querer salvarlo», así no lo tiene claro es que son unos terroristas o buscan otras cosas».

Además, aseguró que el atentado del lunes en Oñartzun, en el que perdieron la vida dos grandes civiles, «ha dolido mucho más en sectores de HB y del MLNV (Movimiento de Liberación Nacional Vasco) que a nosotros mismos».

EL FANTASMA DEL NAZISMO PLANEA SOBRE BOSNIA

■ Stefan Winter, un reportero gráfico británico, ha presenciado en Bosnia una escena que demuestra como ninguna otra como el fantasma del nazismo planea sobre esta república de la antigua Yugoslavia. En una carretera del territorio bosnio controlado por los croatas, unos mili-tares vestidos con el uniforme negro del partido neofascista croata (HOS) detuvieron a una pareja de ancianos serbios. El hombre fue golpeado en la boca, como muestra la imagen de la izquierda tomada por este fotógrafo. Al ver a Winter, los milicianos obligaron al anciano a hacer un saludo fascista

(a la derecha). Entonces, llevaron a la pareja a una comisaría, y el reportero británico intentó seguirles. «Les pedí que me dejaran entrar, pero me dijeron que me fuese de allí inmediatamente», declaró este fotógrafo. «Of dos disparos... Al cruzar el puente, oí la explosión de una granada».

Entrevista exclusiva con el dirigente de EA

Azkarra: «ETA no atenta porque sabe que perjudicaría el diálogo»

BILBAO.— El diputado de EA en el Congreso, Joseba Azkarra, considera que ETA no ha perpetrado acciones violentas, desde que hizo público su oferta el pasado 10 de julio, porque sabe que un atentado perjudicaría el diálogo.

En una entrevista en exclusiva con EL MUNDO DE LAZAR VASCO, el dirigente de EA asegura que al PSOE le interesa, por encima del cese de la violencia, tener al nacionalismo domes-do ya que acobarda la violencia, equivocándose en sus argumentos. En septiembre, Euzko Abertzaleak intentó convencer a HB de que se desprendía del lastre de la violencia; «Hernando Sabarot tiene que afrontar su futuro sin la asistencia de ETA —afirma Azkarra—, y si tarda en desmarcarse del despropósito en el que ha caído está, la coalición se verá asimismo arrastrada en la caída».

Free Objects

Free Objects centers on the “Free Objects” list: an official document listing the objects found in several mass graves in Batajnica, a suburb of Belgrade. These mass graves, containing the remains of Kosovo Albanians, were uncovered between June 2001 and November 2002, on the training grounds of special anti-terrorist units of the Serbian Ministry of Internal Affairs in Batajnica, 20 kilometers from the city center. During the exhumation a significant number of victims’ personal items were found. Hundreds of items were listed as having been found on bodies or in their immediate vicinity. These were mostly small personal items, but the list also contains body parts and missiles of different calibers. After the forensic examination, all items were listed and the final list was stored in an archive. Free Objects questions what happened to these objects. Even though there is evidence that the objects were subsequently destroyed, we cannot exclude the possibility that some survived.

Items collected during exhumation at the Batajnica 2 site –
KO502212/Series of 11 ink wash drawings/56 cm x 76 cm each.

Annex 5 "Ramp Grave"

1. The definitios of the "ramp grave" was originally conceived by Prof Richard Wright who acted as an ICTY expert in charge of excavations during 1997-2000 in bosnia and Herzegovina. The construction of these particular type of grave is undertaken using a wheeled machine termed "Wheeled Front-end loader, es depicted below."

Dimension

Working ranges

2. The machine itself is articulated centrally beneath the operators cab allowing the machine a certain amount of flexibility both in the central axis (see top image) but also between the axles of the machine. The range of the bucket means that it can only dig (excavate) on a level surface and is generally seen in gravel or sand quarries where its large capacity front bucket can be used to load trucks from the side.
